Dear Franklin Boys Preparatory Academy:

It makes me feel special when I learn about the aspirations of active and promising students, such as you. Each of you represents the future of this country. By continuing to learn, work hard, and serve others, you will help make our country a better place and thereby enrich your own lives and that of your friends.

As you embark on your school-wide project, I want to wish you and your supporters the best of luck. Always remember that with hard work you can achieve extraordinary things.

In the years to come, I wish you all the joy of dreaming big, working hard, and succeeding in all that you do.

With warmest regards,

Sonia Sotomayor
